Committee Clears Up Hassle on Art Prize

The Exhibits Committee of the Friends of the Library this week sought to clear up misunderstandings which have arisen over selection of the winner in the recent $300 Purchase Prize Exhibit in the Library.

Mrs. Marjorie C. Parker, in charge of publicity, said: "People have come to me and asked why they should vote when The News already had carried the winner's name on the basis of votes by the judges and committee."

"They gathered from that that the vote of the public was of little consequence."

She explained that this year, for the first time in the exhibit's history, the judges and the committee picked the same picture as the winner.

Since the vote of the judges in determining the winner counts for 40 per cent, and that of the committee, the public and the artists themselves for 20 per cent each, the combination of votes by the judges and committee amounted to 60 per cent, enough to select the winner.

The vote by these two groups was in and counted before that by the remaining groups and was released to The News to meet its publishing deadline. "No one had the slightest intention of slighting the importance of the public vote," Mrs. Parker said, "since there wouldn't be any such exhibit without their interest and support."

"It's just that, through an unusual coincidence, the vote by the first two groups was enough to determine the $300 winner, and this was released to The News in time for their deadline."

"The vote by the public and the artists certainly played a part in picking the honorable mentions."

The News' story of Nov. 20 explained that Edward Reep's "Silver Set in Cool" had won the purchase prize, and that selection of the honorable mentions would await counting of the vote by the public and the exhibiting artists.

Winner of first honorable mention was John Leeper with "Tree Patterns," and second honorable mention was won by Rex Brandt's "Afternoon Glitter."

City Explores Hiring Of Paid CD Director

The possibility of hiring a paid Civil Defense director for Sierra Madre was discussed Tuesday night by the City Council at a special policy meeting in City Hall.

Dr. Daniel D'Arcy, present CD director here, told the Council that the job is too big to be handled by a man working full time at another job. Dr. D'Arcy indicated he will not be able to remain indefinitely as director.

It was suggested that one of the retired Army officers who live in Sierra Madre might consider the job if it were paid.

The most time-consuming part of the director's position, Dr. D'Arcy said, is getting people to volunteer to serve in the Civil Defense setup. He also reported that his mail on the subject is voluminous and includes regular missives from Val Peterson, national CD director.

Dr. D'Arcy said the city should at least have a communications system and the nucleus of a wardens' organization. An efficient Civil Defense organization, he explained, would help the morale of local residents and would prove worthwhile not only in case of war but in other disasters, such as floods, earthquakes or fires.

He added that the city's transfer from CD area D (towns east of Arcadia, primarily) to Area C (Pasadena, Arcadia) was logical and should work for Sierra Madre's benefit.

The Council also discussed the advisability of boosting the city's present insurance coverage and of adding additional protection against possible law suits.

The city is now covered by five insurance companies, all of whom have local representatives. Brokers from the companies were invited to appear at the next Council meeting Dec. 11 and present rates and other information regarding more complete coverage.

The only action taken by the Council involved a request by the Richfield Oil Co. to build a service station on Baldwin Ave., below the city's parking lot near Roberts Market.

The request involves several legal questions which will be settled in escrow. The Council voted to permit Richfield to enter escrow and, if arrangements proceeded satisfactorily, the company presumably will build the service station.

Judging Is Set In Yule Contest

The Chamber of Commerce-sponsored Christmas decorating contest for Sierra Madre homes will be judged the evening of Dec. 22, Mrs. Peggy Lusman, chairman of the Merchants' Division, announced yesterday.

Merchandise prizes of $25, $15 and $10 will be awarded to the three best decorated homes. Judges are Manuel de la Torre, Mrs. Charles Louk and Mrs. Lorne Pratt.

Red Cross Here to Aid Hungary

Sierra Madre has been asked by the American Red Cross to raise $318 as part of a special national fund for Hungarian relief totaling millions of dollars.

The local Red Cross chapter stressed that the need is immediate, as the national group is arranging to feed 200,000 persons daily in Hungary and already is feeding, clothing and sheltering 100,000 in Austria, which last week appealed to the Red Cross to take over a load it is unable to carry.

Red Cross organizations in 40 countries are aiding in the effort, local spokesmen said.

The American Red Cross already has spent several hundred thousand dollars out of its funds on hand. Checks can be mailed to the Sierra Madre Red Cross, 25 S. Baldwin, Sierra Madre, Calif. The local chapter reported this week that several contributions already have come in.

Music Studio Opened Here

Sierra Madre has a new music studio at 43 Baldwin Ave., adjacent to the Music Shop.

The studio was opened last week by Carl Engle of the Music Shop, and will provide instruction for students of guitar and other fretted instruments, accordion, piano and also for vocalists.

Instructors will be Bob Mann, guitar and fretted instruments; Marjorie Thomas, accordion, and the Malones of Glendale, piano and vocal. The Malones also teach at Ascension Parish Day School.

The premises have been remodeled by Mr. Engle in to practice and instruction studios.

MARKET ADS

Because of technical difficulties the Roess Market ad was shifted from its usual position this week to Page 7, opposite the society page. The advertisement for Roberts Market is on Page 10.

School Officials Adopt Three-Point Program

Steps being taken to avoid a repetition of this year's disappointing sixth-grade achievement test results were outlined at a meeting of school officials last Thursday.

Supt. Charles A. Skutt, at a meeting attended by local school officials and Dr. Leland Glover, guidance counselor for county schools, and Dr. William Shanner of the California Testing Bureau, said the following moves were under way:

1. A yearly conference between teachers, officials and parents of sixth-graders. Also, parents were being asked to co-operate with teachers on the homework problem.

2. A REMEDIAL READING program, headed by second-grade teacher Ralph Pinney. Mr. Pinney formerly headed the program, which was dropped some years ago. The new program will include a series of workshops for Sierra Madre teachers, scheduled tentatively for January. Three teachers now conducting special reading classes will study techniques and methods of the Nicholson Reading Clinic.

3. Switching of the testing date from May to early fall to allow more time to work with those students who show the need for it.

IN THIS YEAR'S test results, announced in September, Sierra Madre sixth-graders came out ahead of the national average in only one of six specific categories, although their over-all average was declared to be at grade level.

They scored minus 2 months in reading comprehension, arithmetic fundamentals, and minus 1 in English grammar. They scored plus 1 month in reading vocabulary and were at grade level in arithmetic reasoning.

By way of contrast, Sierra Madre fifth-graders scored plus grades in every test, ranging up to plus 7 in English grammar, for an over-all average of plus 3.

IT WAS SUGGESTED that this discrepancy may have been due to the fact that school work becomes more rigorous in the sixth grade, requiring more rote learning on which specific tests can be given.

Factors which made the test results disturbing to school officials were: (1) Mental maturity tests show Sierra Madre students at the upper part of the normal range, which should mean they are capable of above-average work; (2) there is no below-average intelligence group here, no slum area, which would lower the average figure, while the national average was obtained from cities of every conceivable economic and sociological pattern.

Salvation Army Drive Under Way

Letters of appeal were mailed to Sierra Madreans this week—"Salvation Army Week"—by the local appeal committee headed by L. P. Marsh.

Mr. Marsh pointed out that more than 100,000 needy families in Southern California will have a more cheerful Christmas through the Army's efforts, and urged local residents to support the drive generously.

PHONE CHANGES

Two prefix changes in area telephone numbers were reported this week by the California Water and Telephone Co. As of Dec. 1, DOUGLAS prefixes in Arcadia were changed to Hillcrest and Forest prefixes in El Monte became Gilbert.

New Snafu Forces Third Paving Job

The northern half of Sierra Madre Blvd. from below Arnold's Hardware to Lima St. was ripped up again this week for the third time in the past few months.

The reason for the repair work, according to City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington, was that repaving specifications were not followed exactly.

The contractor was supposed to put in a six-inch base (decomposed granite) and three inches of paving. Instead, the street was repaired with only two inches of paving and no base.

Mr. Bevington said the city had agreed to permit the contractor to add another inch of paving, which would have removed the necessity of tearing up the street again. Some other authority, however, vetoed this plan and insisted on the original specifications.

The subcontractor is the Osborn Construction Co., while Kewit Construction is the prime contractor. The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers is responsible for inspection.

The repaving job is expected to be completed today.

Post Office To Be Open Saturday

Postmaster Charles E. Louk announced yesterday that the Sierra Madre Post Office will remain open this Saturday afternoon for the convenience of anyone wishing to mail Christmas parcels and purchase stamps.

Mr. Louk stressed that parcels and greeting cards should be mailed as early as possible. Mailings for distant states should be mailed well in advance of Dec. 10, and greetings for local delivery not later than Dec. 15, in order to assure delivery before Christmas.

Mr. Louk stated that he and the employees of the Sierra Madre Post Office would like to thank all patrons who have mailed and are mailing early.

He also called the attention of all patrons of the Post Office to their house numbers.

"Please make certain the numbers are clearly visible," said Mr. Louk. "Hidden numbers and numbers hard to find may cause delay in the delivery of mail, since most of the mail will be delivered by the helpers."

Post Office forms will be delivered tomorrow to each home in Sierra Madre. These are to be used when mailing large quantities of greeting cards and to separate the out-of-town from the local mailings. Additional forms may be obtained at the Post Office.

Santa Distributes Children's Letters Friday Night

More pre-Christmas festivity is planned this Friday night in downtown Sierra Madre.

Santa Claus will pick up children's letters at the Post Office at 7:30 and deliver them to the various service clubs. The clubs will later distribute gifts to the children who wrote Santa.

St. Rita's Glee Club will sing at 7:30 in Kersting Square. The Nativity Scene, including the addition of two new figures, will be lighted under the pepper tree.

Remember, also, that Sierra Madre merchants will remain open until 9 p.m. from Friday until Christmas.

Mrs. Hjordis Kittel Parker of Sierra Madre will present her latest film lecture, on Denmark and Greenland, Dec. 6 in Pasadena Civic Auditorium. Reservations can be made at the box office.

Sierra Madrean Flies to Egypt For Survey of Refugee Problem

Arrives Tomorrow At Nasser's Invitation

Paul B. Johnson of 720 Skyland Drive will arrive tomorrow morning in Egypt to conduct a survey of that country's refugee problems in the midst of the turmoil enveloping the Middle East.

Mr. Johnson, who is associated with the American Friends Service Committee, was called to the East Coast last week to confer with diplomatic officials of both the U.S. and Egypt.

His trip was arranged through the invitation of the Egyptian government after the Friends offered to do what they can to relieve the refugee situation there.

Mr. Johnson met with the Egyptian ambassador in Washington early this week and received clearance to tour the embattled Port Said area.

President Nasser of Egypt claimed earlier that 100,000 were made homeless in his country through British and French air raids. This figure has not been verified by any outside agency.

Mr. Johnson said he expects his survey to take about two weeks, but pointed out that it could stretch to several weeks or be cut short, depending on conditions in Egypt.

He left yesterday by plane via Amsterdam and had expected to be in Cairo this evening, but the Egyptian government is not allowing night flights to enter and his arrival was postponed until tomorrow morning.

Mr. Johnson headed the 1949-50 relief program in the Gaza strip after the Arab-Israeli war until the United Nations took over in 1950.

From the Gaza area, the Johnsons went to East Jordan, where Mr. Johnson directed a program of agricultural and village improvement, assisted by Mrs. Johnson. They saw their project wiped out early this year by 1,000 rioters, mostly boys, from neighboring villages.

The couple escaped the rioters, but lost most of their personal possessions.

Mr. Johnson said he still expects to attend the Friends' "Conference for Diplomats" in Ceylon in January. Mrs. Johnson leaves for Philadelphia Sunday to start preparations for the conference.

The parleys bring together younger diplomats from as many as 25 countries, representing all ideologies, for discussion of national interests and international responsibilities.

The diplomats live together from 10 to 12 days at a time. The aim of the program is to promote international understanding. Although it has been operating for some five years, this is the first such conference staged in the Far East.

Lauritz Show Reflects Sensitivity and Charm

By A. L. Suman
Member, Exhibits Committee
Friends of the Library

There can be but one reason for members of the Exhibits Committee to review the paintings of the individual artists who are invited each month to lend us a sufficient number of their paintings for "One-Man Shows."

That reason is simply to encourage people, lots of people, to visit the gallery at the Public Library to enjoy the productions of the exhibiting artists.

It is possible that there are reasons for hanging up paintings side by side in a large hall other than to afford pleasure to all who come to see. I say "possible" because I am not truly sure there are any other good reasons.

In large centers of population like Los Angeles there are hundreds of experts, semi-experts, hobbyists, successful producers, students, and conversationalists who make it worth the effort of a few busy beavers to hang up a lot of pictures so that the assembled may have a chance to see the best of the various offerings.

IN SIERRA MADRE we have only a few of this type of character, since their ratio is small in relation to all of the other types. This is considered a very good thing by the managing class of our society. This opinionated, pseudo or qualified expert type could see, digest, and form strong conclusions if an exhibition hung but for a day.

Less time than that if the exhibition was of the non-objective, abstract, cubistic, post-impressionist, syncretistic, commotistic, surrealist, psychological, or plain shot-from-guns, or any of the other worthy categories I have just looked up in the Art News.

These fancy words do not fit Mr. Lauritz's paintings. To borrow from W.F.T., that well-known professional critic of The News, these easily attain the rank of "Splendid."

They are all pictures of places. Landscapes and seascapes are painted from nature in the spring, summer, autumn and winter; places that he must have liked very much, and whose beauty and charm he wanted to perpetuate in his own sensitive way, pleasing himself first, yet probably hoping that everyone who might later see what he had set down could revel in a passing mood of nature.

COPYING NATURE? Maybe. But more than that. These are reflections of the enthusiasm, knowledge, and sensitivity of the artist depicted through his brush on canvas (good canvas, not masonite) for all to see and to "understand."

If I told you more you wouldn't have to go and look-see, and this you must do, all of you Sierra Madre thousands who don't know anything about Art, thank goodness, but who do know what you like.

And what a great present any one of these would make as a Christmas gift to enhance your living room. You might want to change a frame to help the picture blend with your decor, but you would certainly add prestige and quality.

You would have to be living in at least a $25,000 tract house, because the paintings, though not expensive, are also not inexpensive. Altogether there are about $11,000 worth of them to choose from.

The matter of desirability of ownership of a Lauritz is, of course, "just in passing" because the desire of the committee is for everyone to see them and enjoy them for a short while, and this does not cost a cent. Any time the Library is open the gallery is also open.

The School Situation

An example of how a small town helps itself has been unfolding in Sierra Madre these past few months.

It is in regard to our schools. Residents, especially those with children in Sierra Madre schools, were disturbed last September to learn that sixth-graders here did not do as well on achievement tests as had been expected.

Despite mental maturity tests which indicated students here are at the upper part of the normal range, they were two months behind the national average in reading comprehension, arithmetic fundamentals and spelling, and a month behind in English grammar. They were a month ahead of the average in reading vocabulary and at grade level in arithmetic reasoning.

Test officials softened the blow somewhat by placing the class at grade level in the over-all picture, explaining that this took in results from minus 3 months to plus 3 months.

Nevertheless, no one could fail to recognize that sixth-graders here, where there are no slums and no foreign-born element with language problems, had failed on specific tests even to reach an average based on results from areas of every conceivable sociological make-up.

There were two courses open to Sierra Madreans. They could have followed the time-honored procedure and pitched recrimination at everyone in sight. Or they could take a hand themselves in an attempt to help find out what can be done to improve the situation.

They chose the latter course. Parents began attending special meetings with School Board members and teachers. Civic groups put the matter on their agenda and gave it the benefit of collective and serious study. And School Board members and school officials met at least once a week to plan definite moves.

Out of this has come a number of positive results. As related on Page One of this issue, the board and school officials have instituted a program designed to improve sixth-grade standing in forthcoming achievement tests.

A special committee of citizens, headed by Clifford D. Hensel, is just about ready to hand in specific recommendations on curricula, the product of months of serious and time-consuming study.

Another citizens group, after looking into the situation in surrounding and similar communities, has come up with certain recommendations on the choice of a new school superintendent to make certain there is no letdown there. (Supt. Charles A. Skutt last July announced his intention to resign as of June 1957.)

All these are positive and forward-looking moves. No time has been wasted on finding a goat, someone to blame, which would only have caused ill-feeling and deterioration throughout the school system. As a result, we are moving ahead, through co-operation.

This, it seems to me, has been a first-class exhibition of how a first-class community should behave.—W.F.T.

What Do You Think?

Phil Townsend Hanna, editor of Westways, and the highest authority I know on California history, and W. W. Robinson, retired vice president of the Title Insurance Co. and the highest authority I know on the history of Southern California ranches, have collaborated on a "Map of Spanish California," showing the missions, presidios, and many of the more historic ranches, together with the routes of the principal land explorations.

The title says the map and data were compiled by Mr. Robinson and William H. Newbro Jr. and edited by Mr. Hanna, and the result should be of great value to any student of California history or anyone presuming to write about California's past. The map is published by Westways.

In decades to come, California will owe a great deal to these gentlemen for much of our heritage which they have helped preserve and of which they have made so many of us conscious.

HERE'S ONE I must refer to Col. Morrison and Col. Gildart. The other day I met Col. Frank Eby, recently returned from Saudi Arabia, and he said Elvis Presley's "Love Me Tender" was a direct steal from "Army Blue," a traditional West Point song for many decades.

One big difference—the West Point song was written by someone with some idea of grammar.

MOST OF US value almost everything by the dollar sign on it. Up to a few years ago, thousands of persons who don't like grand opera tried to be awed by it merely because the stars were being paid fabulous prices.

In Stettin, one of Poland's largest cities, Roosevelt Street carries traffic through the center of town. In Poznan, the President Wilson Monument remains unloathed. There is a Hoover Street and a Wilson Park, plus many other such friendly references to the United States in Poland.

Jack London and Mark Twain are well-known authors. Translations of their books are found in most of the government bookshops.

IN THE JULY 1ST issue of SWIAT, Poland's large weekly picture magazine, a huge spread was devoted to the meaning of the American July 4th. Sketches of the Battle of Bunker Hill, comments on Lexington and Concord, Washington at Valley Forge and a lengthy and

The greatest artist, in the minds of most of us, is the one who gets paid most per week. We continually read with deep respect that this or that radio or TV personality has been signed up for so many million dollars, and inevitably begin to rate those persons above those who have nothing to give us but pure art.

To realize how distorted our sense of values has become, consider this: Every moderately successful writer of singing commercial lyrics probably makes 10 times as much per week at Shakespeare ever did. Every composer of singing commercial lyrics probably makes 10 times as much per week as Beethoven ever did.

I doubt that there is one old-timer in Sierra Madre who does not think of Fred as a gentle, kind, helpful, friendly neighbor who was habitually doing something to improve his neighborhood or benefit those about him. Attacks on the Taft-Hartley Law by certain labor leaders have convinced many people that the law opposes the best interests of the worker.

However, I believe that most union members recognize that the law is their Bill of Rights.

Under the old Wagner Law, labor union bosses became dictators, not only to the employer but to union members who were the innocent victims of this law. In other words, the Wagner law passed by Congress as a measure to protect the workers' rights actually had a reverse effect. The labor bosses got so much power that the workers rapidly lost their rights.

The Constitution definitely and specifically declares that every American citizen has certain unalienable rights. But under the Clayton Act labor unions are completely exempt from anti-monopoly laws.

As a result, labor bosses have come to expect that if they are haled into court on charges of conspiracy, they will be freed. For this has happened consistently. Almost every case of racketeering and coercion has gone unpunished. The Wagner Law surrendered to the labor working men and women of the United States, and the Clayton Act reinforced this power.

THE TAFT-HARTLEY LAW was designed to protect the rights of the workingman. When a labor union member declares that he is against the Taft-Hartley Law, it might be well to ask him which part of the law he opposes. In other words, which of these rights guaranteed him is the one he doesn't want?

1. The right to get and hold a job.
2. The right to express an opinion on union matters or union leaders, or to refuse to join a strike without fear of losing his job.
3. The right to be free from union threats and violence.

4. The right to oust an unsatisfactory union.
5. The right to strike for every legitimate purpose that he has had under our laws of the last 100 years.
6. The right to be free from excessive and extortionate initiation fees.

7. The right to know how much money his union has, what is being paid to its officers, workers, and in general how much money is being spent.
8. The right, without fear of reprisal, to support any candidate for public office.
9. The right to settle his own grievance with his employer.

10. The right to have his union free from Communist control—or from control of racketeers and extortionists.
11. The right to bargain in a craft union.
12. The right to have his union really represent the interests of the workers, instead of "dealing under the table" with the employer, as frequently happened.
13. The right to hear what his employer has to say on matters vital to his interest.
14. The right to join or not to join a union.

It is especially this last one to which union organizers object. If they can continue to coerce and force a worker to join without having to convince him of the value of the union on its own merit, their organization fees and commissions continue to be easy money. They can conduct the union, too, without fear of losing membership.

Sirs:
It is with some concern that I read Mrs. Meyer's letter in a recent issue of The News.

I am one of those neglected local artists in love with Sierra Madre, which has been my home all my life. One of my most pleasant experiences in Sierra Madre occurred last year when I walked into the Community Room of the Library and saw a first-rate art show.

To be able to see right here in Sierra Madre the works of our best known regional artists (some with national reputations) was a tremendously exciting thing to me. Because of our interest my wife and I were asked to become members of the Exhibits Committee of the Friends of the Library. It has been a great lot of work for all of us, but I don't think it has been in vain.

I know from personal observation that many of our citizens have gained a better understanding of art and thereby greater pleasure from it, as have those of us serving on the committee. I believe it is possible that even you, Mr. Thomas, in your editorials will one day entertain a few serious pleasures from the exhibits in the City Hall and the Library.

The Exhibits Committee is not promoting "outside" artists to get bigger attendance. It is not promoting any group, inside or outside. It is promoting the best art it can get within its means—local or otherwise.

The purpose of the annual Purchase Prize Exhibit is to acquire some of these works for permanent retention in our community so that our citizens may have easy access to the works of our regional artists as well as our local artists.

As a local artist I do not believe I can improve my painting or my standing in the art world by an allegiance to a local back-slapping society which shuns the outside world.

Suppose our local doctors should assume that there was nothing of value going on in the medical field outside of Sierra Madre. Would our local writers insist we have nothing on the Library shelves but their works? It is ridiculous to think our citizens and artists will attain any cultural stature by isolation from outside influence.

Frankly, I think we artists, amateur and professional, outside and inside Sierra Madre, are too greatly concerned where we are going to exhibit next and not concerned enough with the improvement in the quality of our work.

If we artists and laymen in Sierra Madre want our town to be known far and wide for its art colony, we'd best look to the quality of our work and our exhibits so we can honestly point with pride to our achievements.

I sincerely hope that we will not allow local pride and sentiment of the narrow variety to hamper our cultural growth.

Sincerely,
ALAN WOOD.

Rabbi Steckel Will Continue Judaism Series

Rabbi Charles W. Steckel, spiritual leader of the Foot-hill Community Center of Temple Beth Israel, Sierra Madre, will continue his talks this Friday evening at 8:30 on "Basic Concepts of Judaism."

His specific topic will be the "Liturgy for Friday Evening and Sabbath Morning Services."

Cantor Salo Blumenthal will assist Rabbi Steckel in conducting the services and will chant the prayer and hymns.

The A.Z.A., a youth group affiliated with B'Nai Brith, will take part in the services.

Hosts for the Oneg Shabbath following the Shabbath will be Mr. and Mrs. Ben Parker of Pasadena.

Saturday morning services will be conducted by Rabbi Steckel at 9 a.m.

B'nai Brith Meeting Dec. 12

The San Gabriel Valley B'nai Brith Chapter 619 will meet next Wednesday in the Sierra Madre Foothill Jewish Community Center.

The group sponsored a theater party last Sunday evening at the Pasadena Community Playhouse. All proceeds from the event will be given to charity.

Bethany to Hear Sermon On 335-Year-Old Text

Universal Bible Sunday will be observed at Bethany Church this week-end.

Dr. Robert Schaper, pastor, has announced that he will preach on the text which formed the basis of the first sermon preached in New England, 335 years ago.

The Bethany Church Choir is in the midst of preparation for its Christmas Musicale, to be presented Dec. 23 at the Sierra Madre School Auditorium. The Carol Story of the Nativity will again be presented, along with special solos and choral numbers.

The annual Sunday School Christmas program will be held Dec. 16. A Christmas pageant, "O Worship the King," will be presented, with the various departments participating. Included this year will be the newly-formed Youth Choir under the direction of Ken Phillips. The entire production will be under the direction of Mrs. Jack Shuler.

Former Resident Is Dead at 46

Donald C. Meyer, formerly of 177 Adams St., died Nov. 29, 1956, in Temple Hospital. He was 46.

Mr. Meyer moved some years ago to Los Angeles, where he resided at 5026 Budau Place.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Myrtle P. Meyer of Los Angeles; three daughters, Mrs. Lirlin M. Noble of Torrance, Mrs. Dattelle Elder and Miss Judy Davis of Los Angeles; two sons, Donald E. Meyer and Gerald Davis of Los Angeles; a sister, Mrs. Marjorie Beatty of Laguna Beach; a brother, Robert Paul Meyer of Los Angeles, and one granddaughter.

Services were held Dec. 1 in Wee Kirk of Heather.

Supper Planned In Nine Homes

The monthly meeting of the Bethany Mariners Club takes a slightly different turn this month, as more than 35 couples gather in nine different homes for supper.

Each group will have exactly the same menu, and will gather for dessert and a program at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don McDonald in Arcadia. The group, which also meets each Sunday as a Sunday School class, is for married couples and others approximately 30 to 45.

Mrs. H. C. Johnson Dies Unexpectedly

Mrs. Hulda C. Johnson of 126 E. Highland died unexpectedly Nov. 30, 1956, in her home. She was 68.

A native of Burlington, Ia., Mrs. Johnson had been a resident of Sierra Madre 14 years.

Survivors include three nieces, Mrs. Walter Ullrich and Mrs. Dorothy Harmer, both of Burlington, and Mrs. Ralph Warth of Danville, Ia.

Services and interment were in Burlington. Arrangements were handled by Ripple Mortuary.

Most people don't mind seeing others get up in the world as long as they don't use their heads for stepping stones.

The youngsters are reminded to get their letters to Santa written and in the mail. The notes should be addressed to Santa Claus, Sierra Madre. Santa will be arriving, in person, next Friday evening at 7 to pick up his local sack of mail. Children who wish to see Santa are asked to bring either their mothers or dads with them.

I hope you have stopped in KEEPSAKE and seen the lovely English China cups and saucers and creamers and sugars. There is such a pretty assortment you will have a hard time making up your mind which one you want to buy.

Your problems so far as men are concerned are licked if you will stop in at ROBERT W. LANE, Jeweler, and see the pretty selection of leather goods and cuff links for men. They are priced to fit any pocketbook.

You don't have too many more days to have those holiday photos taken. Call CARL-BERT STUDIOS right away and make your appointment before it is too late.

RASMUSSEN APPLIANCES has a nice stock of table and clock radios so don't bother wasting your time on a trip out of town to make your purchases.

Decanters are still available at the HIGHLANDER. The supply is limited, however, so drop in soon and make your selection.

BYRON HOPPER, Jeweler, still has a nice selection of mountings for those diamonds you want to "bring to date" as well as diamond rings for every occasion.

HORNADAY'S DEPARTMENT STORE

HORNADAY'S DEPARTMENT STORE has a lovely selection of Mojave lingerie and hosiery. You'll also find "The Match Mates" . . . all wool skirts with attractive detailed pockets, back kick pleat and lined for $9.95, and the famous Helen Harper orlon sweaters to match.

If you are looking for costume jewelry, stop in at ROYAL DRUG the next time you are passing by and see some of the pretty things on display.

HOUSE OF BOURBON has some very clever "gag gifts" for Christmas. All of us have names on our lists that call for "something" and because they are supposed to be a bit comic, they're usually the hardest to find.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Yasskin, 391 Auburn, and their children, Philip, Marc, Richard and Karen, entertained last Sunday at a family Hanukah dinner party.

Gold, blue and white were used in the holiday decorations. Each place at the table was marked by a blue Star of David, outlined and inscribed with gold glitter and centered by a white candle, which was lit as the guests were seated.

Taking part in the occasion were Mrs. Yasskin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Rosner of North Hollywood; Mr. Yasskin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Yasskin of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. A. Rosner and their children, Randy and Laurie; Mr. and Mrs. S. Yasskin and their daughters, Judy and Barb, and Mrs. S. Sarnoff of North Hollywood.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. William Gulko of Los Angeles and their sons, Bob, Ken and Steve, and Mr. and Mrs. G. Rothman and L. Rothman of Arcadia.

'Passing of the Wurlitzer' Is Best Toastmaster Talk

Speaking with humor on the passing of the giant Wurlitzer pipe organ, William Petit won the "best speakers" trophy at the last meeting of the Sierra Madre Toastmasters Club.

"Square Pegs in Round Holes" was the title of Wendell Booth's speech on the importance of fitting young people into careers suited to their individual aptitudes.

Cliff Stevens spoke on forest conservation. In his talk he gave historical examples of once-rich regions that have degenerated due to the stripping of their land vegetation, such as Asia Minor, large areas of China, Central Spain, and surrounding areas of the Mediterranean.

Other members on the speakers' panel were Ed Mayo, talking on profit-sharing plans, and Hal Schwensen, whose talk entitled "Too Much for Pills?" concerned costs involved in manufacturing medicine pills. Winfield Hartranft was toastmaster.

Robert Milo conducted the table topics and John Dubois was voted the best table topics speaker with his two-minute extemporaneous talk in which he wittily answered the question, "What is Wrong with the Sex Situation?"

SUZANNE SAUTER

Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Sauter, 174 S. Sunnyside, have announced the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Suzanne, to Magne Engen of Pasadena, son of Rev. and Mrs. Sigurd Engen, former residents of Bodo, Norway, now making their home in Tacoma, Wash.

The couple will be married Dec. 26 in the Church of Ascension. They will continue their studies at Los Angeles State College. Both are graduates of Pasadena City College, where they were members of the International Relations Club.

Suzanne was active in A-Capella Choir and Madrigals and Magne was vice-president of Phi Rho Pi.

The announcement was made at a family dinner given in the Sauter's mountain cabin at Idyllwild.

Christmas Program Is Set By Arcadia Unit of AAUW

Holiday festivities will highlight a meeting of the Arcadia Branch, American Association of University Women, at 8 p.m. next Monday in the Arcadia High School Little Theater.

Members will bring toys and presents for children to be distributed through the Arcadia Thrift Shop at Christmas time.

Mrs. Emerson Winter, second vice president, will introduce Anne and Sven Reher who, in a program entitled "Christmas Customs and Carols," will tell in music and story how different countries celebrate this season of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Reher, parents of four, work together in research, music and lecturing. However, the Rehers have achieved acclaim separately as well as a team since each is an accomplished musician and holds records of high scholastic attainment.

Mr. Reher, who was a member of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra for eight seasons, is presently under contract to the Twentieth-Century Fox Studio Orchestra and teaches History of Music at Marymount College, Los Angeles City College and in the extension division of UCLA.

Mrs. Reher, in spite of a full life as wife and mother, has distinguished herself as a public speaker and community leader in Los Angeles in the field of international and human relations.

Hostesses for the evening, under the chairmanship of Mrs. J. Arthur Moore, include Miss Gladys Ruth and Mmes. J. W. Ackerman, Marshall Beard, Elliot Blakesley, Sidney Curtis, Courtney DeLeon, Carl Eggleston, Milo Evans, Mark Hepburn, Margaret Horn, Robert Johnson, John Meehan, Eugene Platz, Bert Sanders, R. E. Sandiford, L. G. Schick, R. B. Wilkerson and Robert Wilson.

The dinner will feature festive holiday fare and decorations and will be enjoyed by members and invited guests.

The evening planned for fellowship and enjoyment will include the singing of Christmas carols. The music chairman, Mrs. Edwin R. Wileman, will play the piano accompaniment and give a brief history of each carol. Mrs. Ethel Morgan will assist with the group singing.

Sierra Madre Chapter was organized Dec. 11, 1955, and meets regularly in the Park House. The past year has been one of great accomplishment with wide participation in many DAR projects both state and national.

Membership has been greatly increased, with several Sierra Madre women heading the list, through the untiring efforts of the registrar and membership chairman, Mrs. Thomas H. Bailey.

After Hours — EL. 5-9641

Dick Lees hailed Jim Hensley the other day. "Say, Jim, would you like to see a model home?"

"Sure would. What time does she get off?"

AND THEN there's the one about the young firemen spending too much of their time off tinkering with the misses in their motors.

AT THIS TIME of year, the local smoke eaters have little time for misses. What spare time they can afford out in the evenings is devoted to getting around to the doors to present their stories of the Christmas activities.

It takes time to tell the story and the boys are grateful to those who already know about it and are waiting at the door with a smile and the usual.

THE HONEYMOON is over when the dog brings your slippers and the wife barks at you.

MANY WILL HAVE ever-green Christmas trees in their homes. These trees should be and can be flame-proofed.

Even though we have electric lamps to adorn them, the trees are a terrific fire hazard. Almost instantaneous combustion takes place if fire reaches them. During the joys of the holidays, we are liable to forget the danger of fire. Flame-proofing is a simple matter and adds to safety.

WE ARE STILL having difficulty with dry weeds. A few yards are loaded with them. If you permit such conditions, you are endangering your neighbors as well as the whole city. And you could be held responsible for your neighbor's loss if your carelessness is the cause.

There is no excuse for a lot to be covered with dry weeds, old cluttered lumber, discarded furniture and other ugly-looking wastes that should be carried away to the dump. We can't be safe and continue to have such around.

WE'LL BE SEEN ya at the park on Christmas Eve. All children 12 and under are invited to appear and receive the usual stocking the best looking Santa Claus in the world.

If the evening should happen to be a damp one, with rain, bring the kiddies to the Congregational Church athletic room across the street. Santa will appear at 7:30 sharp, when the big tree lights will be turned on and the stockings distributed to the children. Everyone is anxious to get home, so there is little delay.

We want to thank all our friends who so ably support this important function of the Fire Department.

VILLA
VIEWSBy Toni Maurin
Sycamore 7-9634

It is hard to believe that on a peaceful Sunday just 15 years ago tomorrow the world listened to the news of Pearl Harbor. How fortunate we are today that we are living in peace with our enemies of yesteryears. I wonder if we will ever know a time when true peace on earth will reign supreme and that people will be happy with what they have instead of reaching out and grasping for more and oppressing countries less able to take care of themselves. I suppose in the pattern of life this was meant to be, as history shows us that there have always been wars, but it seems like such a heavy price to pay for the privilege of living. This sounds so serious for the season that is approaching but, in reality, it should make us appreciate our blessings even more.

WELL, WE HAVE new neighbors in the lovely new house at 1185 Sierra Madre Villa. They are Mr. and Mrs. Leon Begin Jr. and their daughter, Sandy, who is just 15 months old. They are former Sierra Madreans, having lived there for about three years before moving on the hill. Mr. Begin is an engineer with the Northrop Aircraft Company in Hawthorn.

MR. AND MRS. A. C. ONG of 3335 Trevan Road had a gang of 30 people in from the Pasadena Ski Club the other night. I asked her what sand bar they were doing their skiing on this year and she said they were about to take up skiing on pine needles. They had an interesting talk and slides on a Colorado River trip, and refreshments were served during the evening. Don't worry, Mrs. Ong, you'll be skiing next June if this weather keeps up this way.

IT WAS a lovely sight to see Mr. and Mrs. Don C. Jax-theimer the other night as they left for the premiere of "The House of the August Moon" at the RKO Pantages Theater in full bib and tucker. Tux and formal, in case you've forgotten. They thoroughly enjoyed the show, but I would have enjoyed anything if I could have dressed up like that.

THE G. R. GOLLATZ family, formerly of 1309 Wynn Road, has moved into the house that they built next door, which reads 1275 Wynn Road. Their friends have been very confused all summer as they never knew which swimming pool they were invited to swim in.

MRS. GEORGE MORRISON of 1878 Sierra Madre Villa is getting into the holiday spirit and is going to start out her season with a pre-Christmas bridge luncheon with five tables on Dec. 7.

THE IRA LACKEY family of 1494 Old House Road took off last Friday morning for a little weekend jaunt. She entered Mesa King, one of her fine boxes, in the Redwood Empire Kennel Club Show at Petaluma and in the San Mateo Kennel Club Show at San Mateo. I haven't been able to find out if the dog won, but I do know that he is due to be our next champ on the hill.

I FORGOT to tell you last week that Gabriel Gutierrez of 3265 Fairport returned for a few days from Santa Clara College last month and almost expired from the unusual weather he encountered here. They wear coats in Santa Clara!

MR. AND MRS. R. L. FOX of 1150 Mesita Road gave a party recently to end all parties. They had a buffet dinner for 94 guests, and Mrs. Fox said fortunately the weather was so lovely that people could drift in and out of the patio so that there was no crowding in the house at all. Wouldn't that be fun?

'Panorama Nauticana'
Ends Players' Season

"Panorama Nauticana, Aboard the 'S. S. Junior League'" was the intriguing title of the revue of songs and dances from around the world with which the Pasadena Junior League Players entertained members of the League, their families and friends last night in the ballroom of the Huntington-Sheraton Hotel.

This performance concluded a successful fall season for the Players who, under the direction of Welder Daniel, assisted by Dean Reed, have presented the revue for the enjoyment of Senior Citizen Groups in the Pasadena area.

The series of engagements included performances for the Pasadena Home for the Aged, Vanguard Fellowship, Community Friendship Club of Sierra Madre, Pasadena Community Friendship Center, Holliston Avenue Methodist Church Citizens' Friendship Club, Golden Age Club of Monrovia and Grandmothers' Club.

Mrs. George Coffin III, chairman of the Junior League Players, was production manager, assisted by Mrs. Paul Barnhart, Mrs. Wayne McMurray, props, and Mrs. Thomas Smith, costumes.

Featured in the production was choreography by Mrs. Henry Braun, script by Mrs. George Jagels and an original song by Mrs. Luis Odriozola.

The Glee Club was directed by Mrs. Waldo Greiner with Mrs. Henry Clifford as accompanist.

Members of the cast were: Mmes. Daniel Foley, George Jagels, William Banks, James Lochhead, Alfred Hastings Jr., Hugh Purcell, Willis Hopper, Robert Cowgill, John Leisure, Thomas Chandler, Luis Odriozola, Joseph Lewis Jr., Harold Keith, John Lamb, Theodore Willis, Waldo Greiner, Howard Wright Jr., Cameron Cecil, Andrew Edwards Jr., William Geiger, Robert Gustafson, Owen Hopper, William Onderdonk, Robert Emery, Douglas Gregg, Charles Robinson, Virgil Russell, John Schoentgen and Misses Sally Marble and Mimi Griffith.

Immediately following last night's performance, the audience was invited to remain in the ballroom where they were joined by the cast for an informal Dutch-treat cocktail party.

Club Juniors
Hold Annual Holiday Ball

Shakespeare Club Juniors opened the holiday season last Saturday evening with their annual Christmas Ball held at the Pasadena Elks Club under the direction of Mrs. Ira S. Matthiessen Jr.

Each table was decorated with red and green velvet Christmas trees trimmed with sequins combined with the traditional holiday greenery and sparkling ornaments. An added attraction was a lovely mural of the "Partridge in a Pear Tree," done by Mrs. Alan J. Wurts.

Committee members assisting with the decorations and preparations included Mrs. Claude R. Hickman, Mrs. Marvin R. McClain, Mrs. William K. Cameron, Mrs. Gale L. Wopschall and Mrs. Hugh E. Behny.

A cocktail party was held in the Paul F. Keller home for the new provisional members and their husbands.

Among those guests dancing to the music of La Verne Boyer and his orchestra were Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Cushman, Mr. and Mrs. William M. Laub and Mr. and Mrs. James W. Simpson.

Mrs. Langdon H. Tannehill, president, presided over the regular business meeting at Stratford House last night. The evening's program was under the direction of Mrs. William L. Rudolph, Arts and Crafts chairman, who introduced George Pickham.

Mr. Pickham, a teacher at Arcadia Junior High School, is well known in Southern California for his outstanding Christmas decorations.

An interesting program was enjoyed by the Juniors with some professional advice in the trimming of Christmas trees. Mrs. Rudolph was assisted by Mrs. A. D. Fessenden with the evening's arrangements.

Two sections of the club will meet this month. Social Service will have a night meeting Dec. 12 at 7:45 in the clubhouse, under the direction of Mrs. Edward C. Vail.

Next Thursday Arts and Crafts will meet at Stratford House to give the members an opportunity to complete their traditional Christmas felt stockings and other items they are making for holiday gifts.

'Canyon Vaqueros' Spend Hours Just Horsing Around

By Charles Ayres

Not too long ago horse riding was a very important medium of transportation. But since the advent of Henry Ford and General Motors all that has changed and now riding is strictly for kicks.

It follows naturally that, are, there had to be some sort of competition to show who was best. To meet this pressing problem the Horse Show was born.

Back before 1900 hove into view, the Horse Show got its start. But it turned out in those days to be more of a competition among the socially elite than the horses because the show was used as an excuse to spend scads of money on new clothes and gems, which was supposed to prove something.

ALL THAT has changed now, though, and Hastings Ranch has its own "Horse Set" that is genuinely interested in the training of the beasts.

This group of young boys all own and care for their own horses. They are John Atkinson, Jim and David Stivers, Frank Fey and Byron Benner. Until recently they had a good deal going by operating a co-operative stable in Eaton Wash off Sierra Madre Blvd. This was county property, however, and wouldn't you know that the county decided it needed it again so now they are spread out over Sierra Madre and Arcadia.

The boys belong to a group called the Canyon Vaqueros, who operate out of the Eaton Canyon stables on New York Drive. They are members of the American Horse Show Association, which gives them official sanction for their shows. The annual Horse Show of the Vaqueros was held recently and the boys all took an active part.

THE BOYS have been at this for about two years and have become expert in riding and horsemanship. It naturally follows that they spend a lot of time training their steeds, which is quite a chore in itself.

There is only one right way for a horse to trot, canter, walk, rack and such for show purposes so you can imagine the training that goes into teaching them.

It can't all be hard work, though, or anybody who knows boys would figure

KITCHEN TIME

In the ordinary run of affairs a housewife spends considerable time in the kitchen. And the way things are today kitchen time is usually a pleasant time since most of kitchen work is now done by gimmicks and gadgets instead of by human hands. Modern cookers, roasters, washers, freezers, grinders and mixers carry the labor load of kitchen operation.

May we suggest one more important time and labor-saving device? A SPECIAL KITCHEN TELEPHONE in a color which blends with your kitchen decor. A kitchen telephone will save you innumerable steps and make it possible to converse with friends while stirring the soup or tossing the salad.
